Introducing

WELCOME, everyone, welcome to Manor!

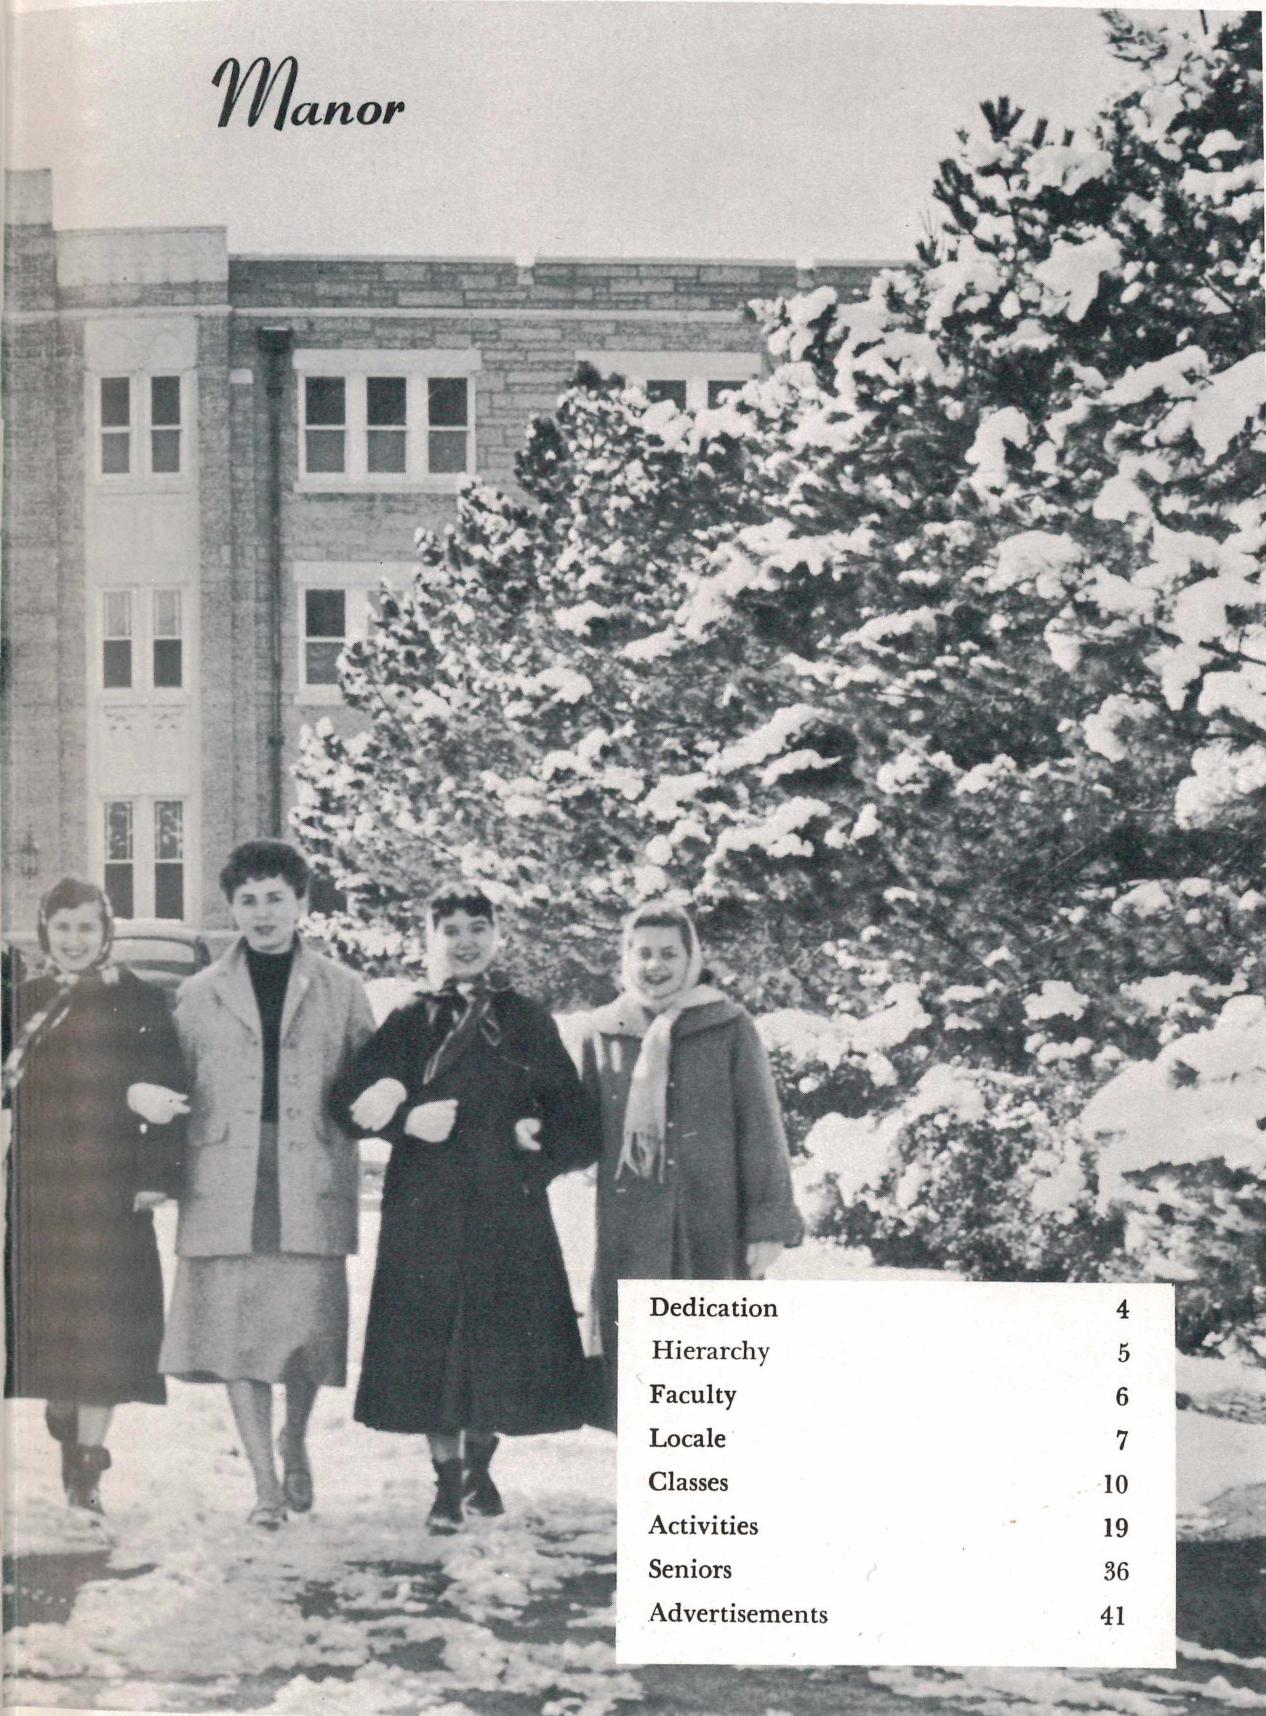

We've dreamed of the day when our first yearbook would become a reality, and at last that dream has come true. As each page in this "Macrinian" is turned, you can be sure that we are happy and proud to give you a glimpse of the life that goes on in a college that is surrounded with cheerfulness and vitality.

Since its doors were first opened in 1947, and since there are only twenty-nine girls enrolled, you might classify Manor as an "infant college" of the area. But don't be fooled! We're on our way, and we're growing steadily with the opening of each new semester.

Life at Manor is just what the typical college girl loves. As soon as the fall term begins, an air of study prevails, but there begins also an endless stream of activities in which every girl takes pleasure in participating. One can be quite sure that, under the guidance of the Sisters of St. Basil and the lay teachers, the diploma received on graduation day is a well earned one.

So, come along, and tour with us through a wonderful year in the life of Manor!

Most Reverend Constantine Bohachevsky, D.D. Archbishop of Ukrainian Catholic Diocese of the United States.

Dedication

Reverend Mother M. Josaphat, O.S.B.M. (1878-1954). Foundress of Manor College.

Welcoming your good beginning, I trust that the publication of the yearbook will reflect well on the work of our only college for girls in educating new intellectual cadres, that it will cite the sacrificial labors of the Reverend Sisters and the teaching Staff and will allow everyone to acquaint themselves with methods of teaching and guiding in this highly educational Institution, which progresses so well under the able leadership of the Sisters of St. Basil the Great in Fox Chase.

Wishing you the best success in your undertaking and bestowing my blessings, I remain,

Sincerely yours in Christ

+ Constantine Bohachevsky
Tit. Archbishop of Beroe
Apostolic Exarch

In gratitude we humbly dedicate this book:

To St. Macrina, the Patroness of our Alma Mater; To the Most Reverend Constantine Bohachevsky, Bishop of the Ukrainian Catholic Diocese of the United States, through whose impetus Manor came into being; To the late but never forgotten Rev. Mother M. Josaphat, OSBM, Superior of the Sisters of St. Basil for many years, whose memory is very dear in the hearts of all who knew her; To the Very Rev. Mother M. Marie, OSBM, whose untiring ambition was to mold outstanding characters in every young Catholic woman.

Reverend Mother M.
Marie, O.S.B.M.

"The Sacrinian"

Honor College

Philadelphia 11, Pa.

Reverend dear Sister Olga and Students of Honor College:

It is with genuine pleasure that I have welcomed the joyous news of Honor's proposed publication of its first yearbook, the "Sacrinian".

I rejoice with you heartily as I hasten to extend to each of you my heartiest congratulations and sincerest wishes for God's blessing and success in the accomplishment of this dream of years which will be realized during this scholastic year.

My wish for you is that the "Sacrinian" will be the best yearbook ever, a truly challenging fulfillment of the combined efforts of Honor's student body. May it realize its sincere aim of introducing Honor to the scholastic world, and of making Honor better known, as it swings wide open its portals to a future rich in the merits of its noble achievements!

God bless your project with great success and grant you much joy in the production of the "Sacrinian". May His Divine aid be yours abundantly in this truly laudable undertaking!

Sincerely yours in Christ,

Mother M. Zenobia, O.S.B.M.
Superior General of the Order of Basilian Nuns

Mother M. Basil, O.S.B.M. Superior of St. Basil Convent.

Locale

Situated on a beautiful spacious campus, Manor has the advantage of being part of a wonderful country atmosphere. As the morning mist rises slowly in the early hours of the morning, the Angelus bell tolls solemnly in the tower of the convent building, and the dawn of a new day begins.

Mass is attended by the girls in the Chapel of Christ the King, where you can't help but feel the presence of your Eternal Father. St. Macrina's Hall, loved by all the girls, begins buzzing with activity as everyone gets ready for classes.

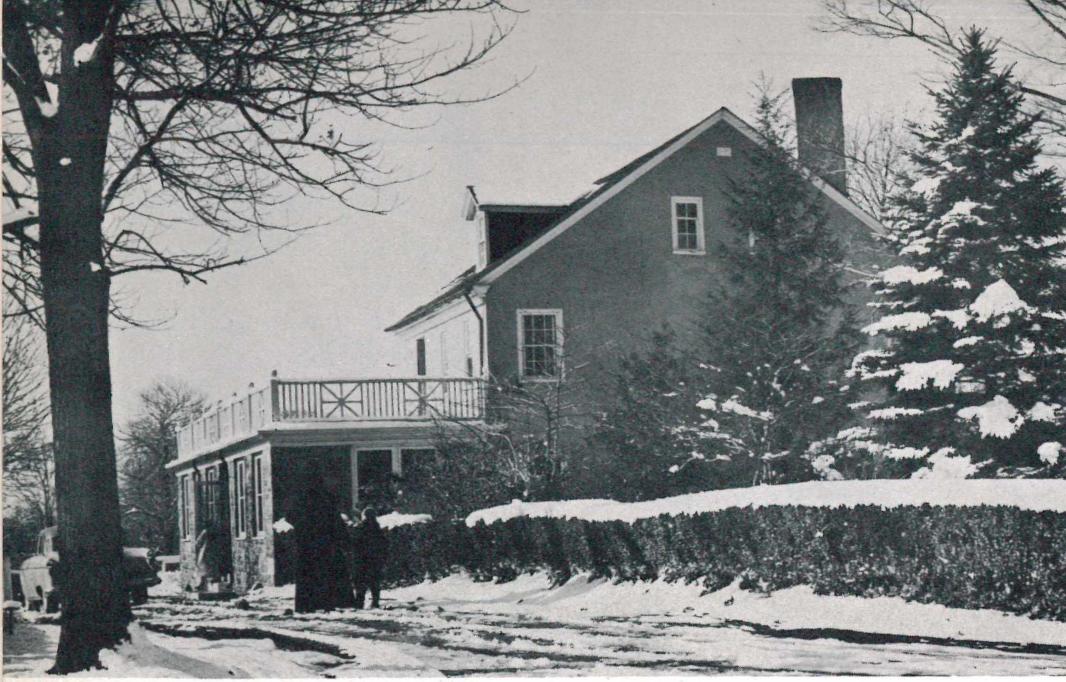

But sometime during the day there is always a visit to the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes, where the pine trees surround the picturesque shrine. This is where Manor is located—a place that you can't help but love.

A scenic view of the crucifix where many a peaceful hour is spent by the students.

A winter setting of the Grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes.

St. Macrina Hall—our boarders "home away from home".

Adoration at the Spanish crucifix outside of the chapel.

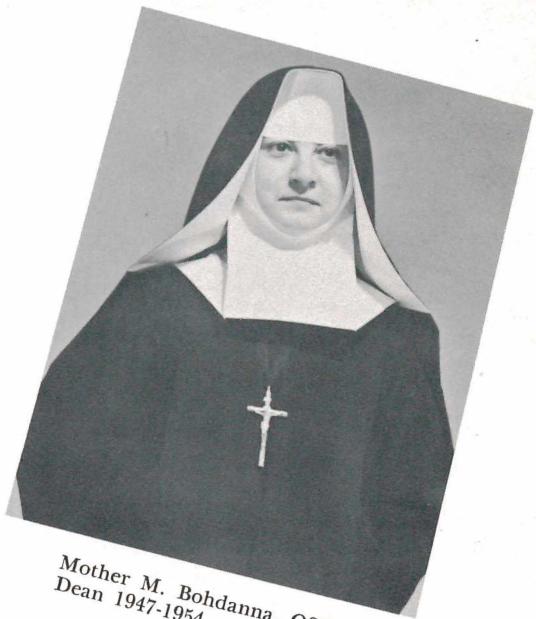

A lovely golden forsythia bush makes an artistic background for A. Pendyski, T. Galvach, and M. Burbella.

Accounting—a necessary evil. Mr. Sweeney does his best to convince his class it can be a pleasure.

Classes

Ukrainian Class in library looking over a valued manuscript: T. Bereza, V. Halushka, V. Sushko, Sr. M. Benigna, OSBM, C. Alfawicka, A. Oleksiw, T. Sydoryk, and M. Zubyrda.

Manor is a college which aims at helping young women to develop every good quality that they possess. Some girls are wonderfully adapted to the business world, while others are fitted to carry on their education in the professional world. Manor has an answer for both.

Manor follows two general programs: The Liberal Arts Transfer Program for those who wish to go on to a senior college and the Terminal Business Training Program which is divided into the general secretarial, executive secretarial, legal and medical secretarial. This program is for those who desire excellent positions in business along with a basic college program and a general cultural background.

Miss Sullivan and a commercial class catching up on all the latest tricks of the trade.

What Makes Manor Tick

For the Liberal Arts Transfer Program, courses are offered in English, philosophy, psychology, and languages, including French, German, and Ukrainian. Sciences such as biology, chemistry, and zoology are also offered. A thorough course in religion is given and a complete course in mathematics, including college algebra, trigonometry, and calculus. For the secretarial courses, in addition to basic college work, stenography, introductory and advanced, along with introductory and advanced typing, are offered. Clerical practice, office machines, legal and medical terminology, business law, and business arithmetic are given for those who wish to specialize.

Sr. Olga helps the girls struggle through another psychology class.

The academic students, under the watchful eye of Sr. M. Emelia, OSBM, are looking for the amoeba that got away.

The family spirit that prevails in our small school and the individual attention that each student receives is a beautiful introduction and orientation into the cultural, educated world.

Mr. Ryan is only too glad to go over that algebra for the tenth time. Listening intently are T. Bereza, K. Burke, M. D'Aiuto, and C. Miller.

Miss Sullivan tends to prove that practice makes perfect.

Daytrips anticipating another happy day at Manor: Mary Lou Dunning, Clara Miller, Marie D'Aiuto, and Pat Thomas.

"Practice makes perfect," as T. Sydoryk goes ahead to prove it.

Chatting between classes, but I am sure our seniors are discussing English Lit.

Hurry up! Half a minute to go and M. Byrne, M. Dunning, M. Burbella, and C. Alfawicka take advantage of it.

J. Furey and M. Byrne smilingly get ready to leave after a day's work in class.

Just gather 'round the piano and sing out as M. Zubryd, V. Halushka, T. Sydoryk, and K. Alfawicka are doing.

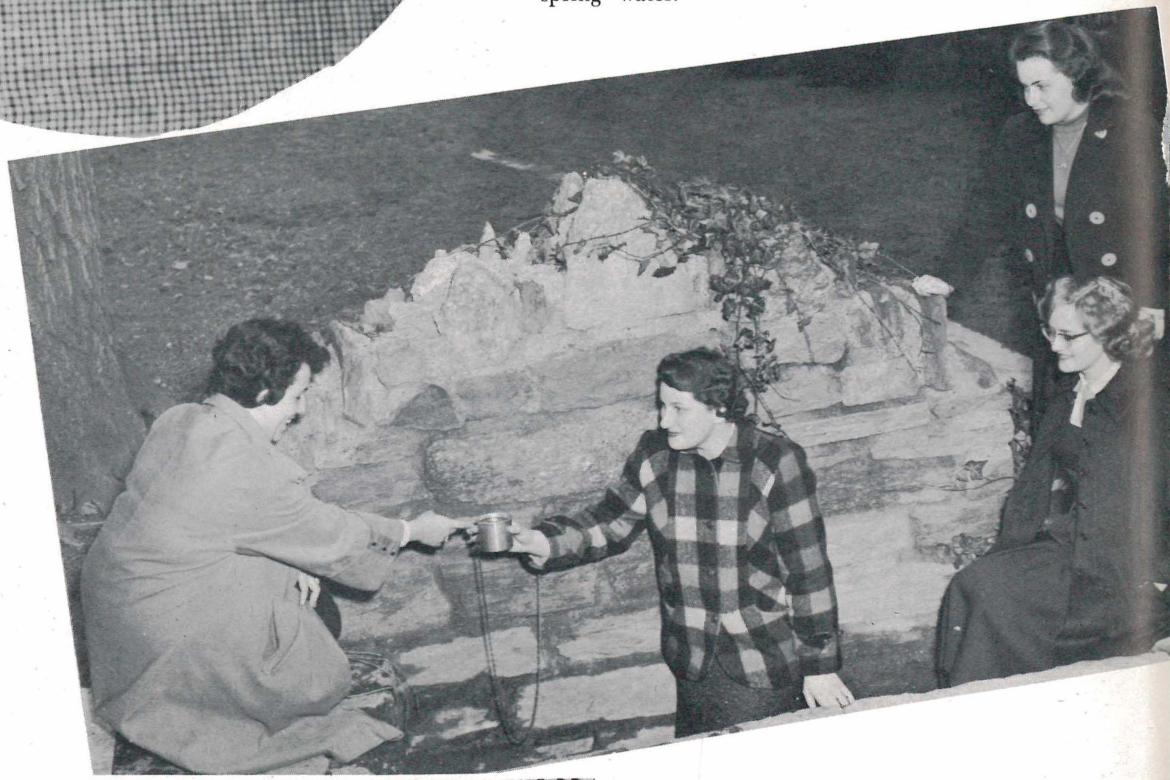

One, two, three. That's all Marie Zubryd, our ping-pong champ, takes to hit that ball to her opponent.

Moments

M. D'Aiuto, M. Dunning, C. Miller, and P. Thomas never seem to have enough of the cool spring water.

Wonder if C. Colmenares will find studying as interesting as the T.V. set.

"So you think I'll lose, huh," smiles M. Juranski.

of Relaxation

Resident students take time off for snack.

V. Halushka, A. Pendyski, and M. Burbella seem to be aiming at the same target—C. Colmenares.

There seems to be a mutual attraction between P.
Breen and Queenie.

T.V. fans, C. Colmenares,
C. Miller, and V. Sushko,

Activities

A good time was had by all!
F. Chervenka and C. Miller work on their displays at Open House.

Our many varied activities are an essential part of our life here at Manor. They are an outlet for our youthful spirits. But most of all, we will have the cherished memories with us the rest of our days. We will spend many a happy hour recalling the fun we had at our yearbook and school paper, caroling at Christmas and receiving our new blazers from "Santa."

Our teas are a happy remembrance; if you had a tea ball you are socially accepted. Endeavoring to learn archery was sometimes a painful, but nevertheless, exciting experience. We had our more serious moments, too. Retreat is a most welcome time of the scholastic year. Graduation Day, where our seniors take their step into the world of today, officially closes the school term.

They shot an arrow into the air, away it went we know not where.
The modern Robin Hoods are Nancy Oakes, Arlene Hoppe, Maureen Byrne and Maryellen O'Dea.

"Anyone for a hot dog," coaxes C. Colmenares as Terry Galvach and M. Burbella prepare to meet the demand for them.

Customs and Costumes. A. Pendyski, T. Sydoryk, T. Bereza, and C. Alfawicka are dressed for dancing in traditional Ukrainian costumes.

Deadline to meet! F. Chervenka, editor, and Miss N. Sullivan, moderator, plan a page as M. D'Aiuto, business manager, mails Foxprints to the subscribers.

Right: Who's the model? Mrs. L. Hansen or Suzette!

"Come early and avoid the rush," is the advice given by P. Breen to N. Oakes.

V. Sushko, F. Chervenka, and E. Stremba discuss NFCCS affairs.

Remember this hectic day? V. Sushko, Co-editor; P. Breen, Production Manager; N. Oakes, Business Manager; Sr. M. Olga, OSBM, Moderator; M. Burbella, Co-editor; and J. Davis, Photography Manager, put the finishing touches to the Macrinian.

"Glad you could come," say D. Smith and G. Davis to three boys as they buy their tickets at the door for the Hunt Ball.

Memories are made of this! The hours just seemed to fly by.

Deck the walls! A. Oleksiw and V. Halushka decorate the walls for the Hunt Ball.

Chaperones, Miss N. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Barba Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Burbella, enjoy a refreshing drink at the dance.

Looking pretty for the photographer are K. Burke, A. Pendyski, J. Furey, F. Chervenka, M. D'Aiuto, C. Colmenares, D. Smith, J. Davis, M. Jurasinski, M. Burbella, T. Galvach, P. Thomas, and E. Stremba.

Morris (John Muir) tries to impress Catherine (Arlene Hoppe) as Lavinia (Pat Thomas) and Dr. Sloper (Mike Tanney) look on critically.

Curtain call time for Curtain Callers! Mrs. Montgomery (F. Chervenka), Maria (Kathy Burke), Lavinia (Pat Thomas), Dr. Sloper (Mike Tanney), Morris (Jack Muir), Catherine (Arlene Hoppe), Arthur (James Darcy), Marion (Pat Breen), and Elizabeth (Janice Furey).

The hustle and bustle of prom time doesn't seem to escape Manor at all. After waiting all year for this eventful night, no one is going to let it slip by without looking her best.

Anne Pendyski coming down the stairs to meet her prom date.

C. Alfawicka and M. Zubryd are on their way to dance away the night.

Gloria In Excelsis Deo! A. Hoppe and K. Burke carol the joys of Christmas.

The Glee Club of Manor College spreads Christmas cheer.

The Christmas Crib on campus is visited by the carolers.

No matter how cold and nippy the weather may be, each Christmas finds the Manorette carolers going to the village to bring holiday cheer once again.

Silent night, Holy night!

The parents of the Manorettes enjoy a delightful repast at the Christmas supper.

Father Flynn blessed the blazers that jolly old St. Nick presented to the eager girls.

E. Stremba discusses a problem with the retreat master, Father Peter Fedorchuck.

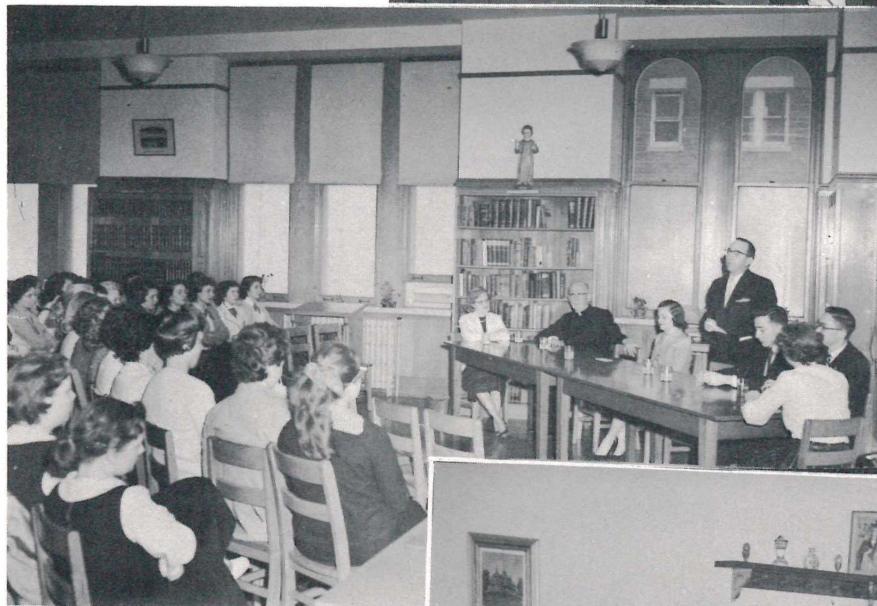

Every morning we find E. Stremba and M. Juraski on their way to Mass.

With his final conference, Rev. P. Fedorchuck ends the annual retreat.

Marriage Forum

Top: After giving interesting and humorous talks at the marriage forum, J. Steitz and J. Boych enjoy refreshments given by E. Stremba and F. Chervenka.

Center: Dr. J. Larkin seems to be holding everyone's attention. Why not, when the subject is marriage.

Lower: Everyone needs some time for a breather so J. Steitz, J. Boych, Miss N. Sullivan, F. Chervenka, Dr. J. Larkin, and Fr. J. Flynn get together for a chat.

Capping day—the day on which a girl wears her academic cap and gown for the first time and is thereby recognized officially as a member of the freshman class—was held for us on October 26, 1955. It was quite an honor for us to receive our caps from Mother M. Euphrosyne O.S.B.M., Provincial of the Order of St. Basil. Father Anthony Flynn, Ph. D., STL, gave a very inspirational speech on the benefits of a Catholic college education. The freshman class sang the Alma Mater. A grand finale was given this memorable day by the holding of a luncheon for the parents, the newly-capped freshmen and several guests of honor. October 26 will surely be long remembered by every Manorette when her college days at Manor are long since over.
